

Young Rhys enjoys new projector gift

A YOUNGSTER with profound developmental delay has been given a projector from a charity to help stimulate him. Now eight years old, Rhys, who has respite care at Ty Hafan Hospice in Sully, became gravely ill shortly after birth and began having fits and epileptic seizures. Children's charity React has donated a Galaxy Projector to Rhys, who loves the new equipment. It projects images across ceilings making it easier for him to see. If you are caring for or know of a child that may need React's assistance call 0208 940 2575. If you are able to help React help more children like Rhys you can visit www.reactcharity.org for all the ways you can help.
